What's New in the AutoCAD?

StdI Output: Automatically generate static images for printed output. Use the standard sizing of prints to match the units, paper, and other parameters of a drawing. Automatically rotate and scale images for printed output. Just set the image size and rotation to match the printer, and it will print accordingly. StdA Output: Automatically generate print-ready A4-sized files for output. Automatically generate A4-sized print-ready files for any file size, up to 80,000 x 8,000 points. Generate PDFs automatically when exporting to PDF. Video (1:15) Markup Assist: Easily add text and symbols to your drawings from a variety of sources, including Microsoft Office, Word, Excel, Publisher, PowerPoint, and Excel for Mac. Share your drawing with colleagues and customers through email, the Web, and other applications. (video: 6:46 min.) Screen Bound With Image: Choose whether to include a screen-bound icon in your drawing. Specify the height, width, and location of the icon. (video: 1:10 min.) Get Extra Help From PointCloud: PointCloud helps you create new drawings more quickly by providing a unique way to organize, edit, and comment on information in your drawings. (video: 3:05 min.) Screen Bound Wireframe: Organize your designs by adding them to a new layer and painting it white. Include the layer in any screen-bound display including paper, PDF, and Web pages. Extend Or Enter Any Key: Automatically extend or enter a keystroke to provide better control over a drawing. Specify the keystroke and its location, along with a symbol to indicate if it's a Control key. For example, you can extend Control M or Control X to add a direct selection box. (video: 3:19 min.) Create a Dynamic Crosshair: Synchronize your crosshair, line indicator, or other tool icons to snap to the nearest visible marker. Move them by dragging. Have the display update in real-time as you move the cursor. (video: 3:08 min.) Draw Quickly With Dynamic Arcs: Add dynamic arcs to your drawings easily. Choose the type of arc and drag. Specify the endpoints or change the arc type using the drop-down list
